MARCHE

OUR HOMETLAND

The Marche region boasts a rich variety of wines that reflect its terroir.

The region is renowned for its white wines, particularly Verdicchio, which offers crisp acidity and notes of citrus and green apple.

Marche also produces red wines like

Lacrima di Morro d'Alba and Rosso Conero and Rosso Piceno, made from indigenous grapes like Montepulciano and Sangiovese, showcasing ripe fruit flavors and smooth tannins.

Pairing Marche wines with local cuisine is a delightful adventure.

The fruity notes of Verdicchio complement seafood dishes, while Montepulciano pairs beautifully with hearty meat dishes such as "Tagliere di salumi and agnello fritto."

For a lighter options, pair Rosso Conero with pizza or Rosso Piceno with savory pasta dishes such as "Pappardelle al ragu' di cinghiale".
